

Foundational Core

Thomas G. Jones, Associate Dean

The liberal arts at Taylor University provide an entrance into a human dialogue about life's important questions and allow the opportunity to appreciate God's wisdom and beauty. Such a focus enables students to acquire knowledge concerning their faith in order to become better ambassadors for Christ. The practice of engaging a breadth of disciplines trains students to become intellectually open to new ideas as they acquire discernment and self-control. Studying the liberal arts allows students to develop a sense of purpose and meaning as they fulfill the biblical obligation of pursuing God with their minds while striving to become more like Christ. At Taylor, faith is the foundation for the development of knowledge. All academic disciplines, in turn, inform the development of faith as well as habits of mind and action that characterize mature Christians.

The foundational core curriculum at Taylor University challenges students to pursue knowledge outside of their chosen disciplines so they may make connections between disciplines, between the past and the present, and between their experiences and the experiences of others. Students dedicated to inquisitiveness, intellectual honesty, and the pursuit of truth, while demonstrating the willingness to persevere when applications are not immediate and obvious, develop the foundation to continue learning throughout their lives. Christians who value lifelong learning are intrinsically motivated to pursue God's wisdom, truth, and love.

In this light, the foundational core curriculum emphasizes the Christian calling to recognize the global realities and complexities of local, national and international issues and situations in order to develop ethical positions that are informed, thoughtful and nuanced. Students will grow in their understanding of global realities from historical and cross-cultural perspectives and appreciate diverse cultural dynamics and orientations. Through coursework and personal interaction, students may develop the discernment to choose actions that promote global responsibility and uphold the dignity and worth of all people.¹

Seven Objectives for the Foundational Core Curriculum

1. Aesthetic Literacy

Aesthetic literacy entails the capacity to effectively engage the arts (which include literature, music, architecture, and the visual, performing, and media arts) and the aesthetic dimensions found in natural phenomena and to comprehend the ways in which they contribute to culture and human flourishing. It requires a grasp of the distinctive nature of the relationship between form and meaning found in works of art and the knowledge of the critical frameworks relevant to their understanding. Aesthetic literacy enables students to recognize and develop their gifts as humans who share the image of a creative God. It invests them with the ability to engage works of art and aesthetic form in diverse contexts with discernment in order to foster a way of life that is both vibrant and in keeping with God's purposes.

Outcomes

1. Students will identify the distinctive characteristics of a variety of the arts, artists, styles, cultures, and historical periods.
2. Students will explain how values and meaning are embedded in artistic form and design by using appropriate methods to evaluate and discern worth and ethical implications in historical and current art practice.
3. Students will explore their own creative potential as both participants and observers, enabling future involvement with the arts.

2. Civic Mindedness

Civic mindedness involves an understanding of ideals and practices of citizenship critical to full participation in a democratic society. Greater global interdependence, illustrated by the volume of international news, communication, trade, and travel, requires more awareness of a variety of social, political, and economic systems throughout the world. Informed citizens need to have a systematic knowledge of the structure and processes of economic, political, and social systems, as applicable in a local, national, or international context. Civic mindedness entails citizens valuing knowledgeable participation in the public forum for the public good.

Outcomes

1. Students will acquire knowledge of political and economic systems, and of diverse cultures and subcultures to understand current events and to have an informed opinion of these issues.
2. Students will assess, analyze, and knowledgeably participate in public discourse.
3. Students will respect and evaluate diverse opinions related to local, national, and international issues.
4. As a portion of their Christian responsibility, students will participate in local, national, and international institutions and civic organizations in order to fulfill God's mandate to be salt and light to the world.

3. Communication Fluency

Effective communication involves an awareness of rhetorical strategies and practices essential to conveying understanding in public and private discourse. Such communication requires that issues and ideas be examined from a variety of oral and written perspectives and contexts. Communication fluency is evidenced by proficiency in analyzing and applying audience-specific, message-specific, context-specific, and medium-specific factors in the formulation of meaning.

Outcomes

1. Students will investigate and gain knowledge of media literacy, including the development of research techniques and critical reading strategies, to incorporate selected sources into their own work.
2. Students will analyze rhetorical models, and respond to ideas using appropriate patterns of reasoning, supportive evidence, and appropriate evaluative standards.
3. Students will apply oral and written language usage and media selection appropriate to particular rhetorical situations and particular audiences

4. Critical Thinking and Information Literacy

Strong critical thinkers have the ability to access, identify, evaluate, and analyze information, concepts, assumptions, and perspectives toward the end of discovering truth and achieving relevant results. Critical thinking also requires the ability to determine the quality and the extent of information for the discovery of knowledge within a variety of academic disciplines. These skills enable students to form scholarly, sophisticated, and ethical considerations marked by integrity, fairness, empathy for others' perspectives, and openness to self-criticism. Additionally, advancing critical thinking and research skills better enables students to make informed contributions to society and scholarly conversations using diverse forms of media.

Outcomes

1. Students will analyze an event, argument, or problem using appropriate evidence and reasoned judgments.
2. Students will evaluate and synthesize information from diverse resources to reach an informed conclusion.
3. Students will identify and assess their own and others' biases and values.
4. Students will apply new and prior information to a specific purpose, problem, or research question.

5. Quantitative and Scientific Literacy

Quantitative and scientific literacy involves theoretical, experimental, observational, and computational exploration in the context of collaboration; this entails problem solving in teams and communicating the results in a clear and logical way. Quantitative and scientific literacy enables students to explore God's creation, investigate contemporary human challenges, and use technology thoughtfully in the context of human interaction. Wise and ethical decisions that demonstrate effective stewardship of our God-given resources are the hallmark of quantitative and scientific literacy.

Outcomes

1. Students will apply quantitative and scientific models to solve real-world problems.
2. Students will clearly communicate quantitative and scientific results using words, tables, graphs, and other formats as appropriate for the intended audience.
3. Students will articulate the value of natural science, mathematics, and computational technology as a means of understanding their world.
4. Students will identify, and explain, the importance of the ethical uses of science and technology in their everyday lives.

6. Responsible Stewardship

Stewardship entails respect of and responsible oversight for that which belongs to another. Christian stewardship recognizes God as Creator and Owner of all things and Endower of our skills, abilities, talents, and resources. The response of the believer should be to manage purposefully all spiritual, intellectual, natural, personal, economic, technological, and physical resources provided by God with individual and social responsibility. This responsibility involves acknowledging the costs and benefits of such stewardship. As the intended caretaker, humankind is commissioned to devise and employ strategies to care for God's creation. Responsible stewardship also includes using one's body, time, talents, and personal resources in a God-honoring manner in one's vocation and personal ministry to others; one's physical, social, and spiritual wellbeing; and one's service to Him and to others in the world in which we live.

Outcomes

1. Students will explain the scope of responsible Christian stewardship for all that God has created.
2. Students will demonstrate responsible use of their minds, bodies, abilities, and resources.
3. Students will identify the costs and benefits involved in the wise, responsible, moderate, and sustainable use of their resources.
4. Students will practice wise stewardship of creation in their personal lives, vocations and ministries in their communities and the world to honor God and to serve others.

7. Spiritual Maturity

Spiritual maturity is the mark of a vibrant, personalized, growing faith in Jesus Christ. Students who are spiritually mature have developed a solid faith foundation, grounded in the knowledge of Scripture in its entirety, which they intentionally integrate into every aspect of their lives. This is primarily exhibited in Christ-like character (or the fruit of the Spirit), and the regular practice of spiritual disciplines including prayer, Bible study, corporate and personal worship, stewardship, and service. The foundational core curriculum will provide students with the skills by which they are able to formulate and support a personal, growing, evangelical, orthodox Christian faith.

Outcomes

1. Students will articulate the biblical foundations of their faith and explain how they impact daily life.
2. Students will practice biblical principles of a growing Christian faith as evidenced by spiritual disciplines.
3. Students will express the philosophical and theological arguments which shaped the doctrinal understandings of the Christian faith.
4. Students will assess cultural values and practices in the light of biblical theology to influence culture for the Kingdom of God.
