

Financial Aid

The following information regarding financial aid is accurate at the time of the catalog publication but is subject to change due to changing federal and state regulations and institutional policies and budgetary constraints. For the most current information, please refer to the financial aid section of our website at <https://www.taylor.edu/admissions/tuition-and-funding/> or contact the Financial Aid Office.

The financial aid programs at Taylor recognize that it is the basic responsibility of students and their families to finance a college education. However, the rising cost of education has made it necessary for many students to enlist financial assistance outside their personal resources. Financial aid can help many qualified students attend Taylor regardless of financial circumstances.

The financial aid programs offer assistance to students in need in the form of scholarships, grants, loans, and employment. Financial aid is awarded primarily on the basis of financial need, except in the case of merit scholarships that require superior academic achievement and ability. If the student's aid package is based on financial need, the total aid package (including merit and outside scholarships) cannot exceed the student's financial need.

Financial need is defined as the difference between a family's resources and the total cost of attending college. If a difference exists between the total cost of attending Taylor (including tuition, fees, living expenses, books, course materials, supplies, equipment, transportation, and miscellaneous personal expenses) and the ability of the family to meet these educational costs, the student is determined to have financial need. An evaluation of financial need includes consideration of the parents' and student's income and assets, household size, and number of household members in college.

To determine the extent of the student's financial need and the family's ability to pay for educational expenses, Taylor uses the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). An analysis of this data determines the student's eligibility for need-based grants, loans, and work study.

Students enrolled in Taylor University's established off-campus programs will receive financial aid as though they were on campus. Students may only receive institutional financial aid for their first off-campus program. Federal financial aid is available for additional study abroad programs. Taylor will not award any financial aid (federal or institutional) to students attending off-campus programs not offered through Taylor University.

Students who plan to enroll on a part-time basis should consult the director of financial aid about the availability of financial aid programs. It should be noted that many aid programs require that a student be enrolled full time (a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester).

To continue to receive need-based financial aid, a student cannot be on extended academic probation and must meet the criteria established in the Taylor University Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy. Visit <https://www.taylor.edu/admissions/tuition-funding/additional-resources> for a copy of this policy online. Satisfactory academic progress for financial aid applicants/recipients shall be measured both qualitatively and quantitatively. In order to maintain eligibility to receive financial aid, a student must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average based on the student's cumulative credit hours completed and successfully complete at least 50% of the credit hours attempted in a given term and 80% of the overall credit hours attempted. The student must also complete his/her undergraduate degree within 160 credit hours attempted (80 credit hours for associate degree), including transfer hours, AP and CLEP credit, and any other credits listed on the academic transcript.

Any Taylor University Online student wishing to be considered for financial aid must be registered within a specific term, including specific due dates for assignments.

How to Apply for Financial Aid

Students should begin the application process for financial aid as soon as possible after October 1. Those only interested in merit-based programs need not submit any financial aid forms. The Financial Aid Office automatically awards merit-based scholarships after receiving the student's SAT/ACT/CLT scores and high school GPA information from the Admissions Office.

In order to receive timely consideration in the awarding of financial aid, students must: (1) submit the indicated forms; (2) respond promptly to requests for additional information, documentation, etc.; and (3) comply with the following directives:

- Be accepted for admission to Taylor University. Students may apply for financial aid prior to their acceptance at Taylor, but financial aid will not be awarded until acceptance is finalized. Please note that transfer students must indicate Taylor University as a recipient of their Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) information and have their financial aid forms received by the federal processor by April 15.
- Complete the FAFSA online at <https://studentaid.gov> as soon as possible after October 1. The federal processor must receive the FAFSA by April 15, in order to be considered for need-based institutional aid. Students whose forms are received after this date will only be eligible for the Federal Stafford Loan, Federal Pell Grant, Federal PLUS funds, and non-need merit-based aid. Please also consider the following:
 1. The release of information to Taylor University should be clearly requested on the FAFSA (code # 001838).
 2. Additional forms may be required in order to receive state aid from Vermont or Rhode Island. Students should check with their high school guidance officer regarding which forms are required by their state.
 3. In order for Indiana residents to be considered for state aid, the FAFSA must be received by April 15. No other form is required.

Merit-Based Academic Awards

Merit-based academic awards are presented to students who demonstrate outstanding scholarship. Financial need is not considered for this type of aid. The President Scholarship, Dean Scholarship, Faculty Scholarship, Trustee Scholarship, Academic Merit Award, and Director Award are awarded to all students entering Taylor during the 2023-2024 academic year who meet the specified criteria. A student can only receive one academic scholarship from Taylor. The President, Dean, and Faculty scholarships and the Academic Merit Award are renewable each year with a minimum 2.95 cumulative GPA at Taylor. All merit scholarships are awarded for a maximum of 8 semesters.

Academic Merit Awards are given to all National Merit Finalists. The amount is $20,000. The Academic Merit Award is given in place of other Taylor academic scholarships.

Students qualifying for the Director Award or a President, Dean, Faculty, or Trustee Scholarship are determined based upon each student's high school grade point average (GPA) and as well as the ACT (English, Math, Reading, Science) average score, SAT (Reading and Math) combined score, or CLT score. Test scores are super scored, meaning the highest subset scores are added together from multiple test dates to determine a student's academic scholarship. Amounts range from $10,000 to $20,000. Students can determine their award amount by using the scholarship grid found on our website: <https://www.taylor.edu/admissions/tuition-funding/scholarships>. Students receiving the Indiana Lilly Scholarship, Yellow Ribbon Scholarship, or an educational benefit due to a parent's employment are ineligible for an academic merit scholarship.

Transfer Scholarships ranging from $9,000 to $17,000 are awarded to transfer students based on their prior college GPA. For details, see our website: <https://www.taylor.edu/admissions/tuition-funding/scholarships>. These scholarships are renewable each year for a maximum of 8 semesters with a minimum 2.95 cumulative GPA.

This long-term, low-interest loan program is designed to assist students who demonstrate financial need as determined by the FAFSA. Repayment and interest on this loan begin after a student ceases to be enrolled on at least a half-time basis.
- To qualify for student employment, a student generally must demonstrate financial need. Exceptions include personnel assistants in residence halls or students who possess required skills, such as computer knowledge.
