Chair, Associate Professor K. Johnson
Orphaned and Vulnerable Children Director, Professor C. Sisson
Professor S. Moeschberger
Associate Professors E. George, N. Kerton-Johnson, J. Miller, B. Wetzel
Assistant Professor P. Byers

The Department of History, Global, and Political Studies prepares students for careers as servant-leaders in public service, teaching, law, ministry, public history, and to enter into the challenges presented by a world with millions of at-risk children and communities. The department offers majors in History; Global Studies; Orphaned and Vulnerable Children; Political Science, Philosophy, and Economics (PPE); Politics and Law; Politics and Public Service; and Social Studies Education. Minors are offered in Geography, Global Studies, History, International Relations, Legal Studies, Orphaned and Vulnerable Children, and Political Science, and PPE.

Most majors require a practicum (1-3 hours) in a professional setting for a Bachelor of Arts; the Bachelor of Science, which includes information systems and analytics, requires most majors to complete 3-4 hours of practicum. Orphaned and Vulnerable Children requires two 3-credit practicums, PPE requires one 3-credit practicum, and Social Studies Education requires a 15-credit (student teaching) internship. Practicums are most often completed during the summer and must be pre-approved by the department chair.

Global Studies

The Global Studies program seeks to assist students in preparing for living and serving in the modern world. The focus of the Global Studies curriculum is upon the twenty-first century world and the humane disciplines more than the technical and scientific ones.

Majors from all disciplines who wish to develop a broad understanding of God's people throughout the world and are interested in careers in foreign service, humanitarian agencies, international law, overseas teaching, journalism and other mass media, translation, missions, or international business would clearly benefit from a major or minor in Global Studies.

Students interested in pursuing a major or minor in this program should consult the program director.

Global Studies (BA)

Legal Studies

The best preparation for graduate training in the field of law is a regular four-year college academic program leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree. The student's major, chosen in consultation with the pre-law advisor, should be one that enhances reading, writing, and analytical skills.

Normally, the courses are taken during the junior or senior years. If, however, the student plans to participate in an off-campus program, it may be necessary to take one or two of the courses during the sophomore year. Students should consult with their academic advisors or the pre-law advisor about the best time to take pre-law courses.

Legal Studies Minor

As a supplement to their major, students may opt for a Legal Studies minor which consists of 18 hours. Not available to students with a major in Politics and Law. All minor courses must be completed with a grade of C- or better and are included in the minor GPA.

Orphaned and Vulnerable Children

The Orphaned and Vulnerable Children major is an innovative “problem-focused major” where students can start with the challenges of a global orphan crisis and take courses designed to equip them to intervene in meaningful ways. It is designed to pair easily with a complementary discipline. By design, this interdisciplinary major includes elements of developmental psychology, global health, principles of community development, working with families, assessment, and skills in philanthropy.

Students will gain an understanding of issues that range from the development of the individual (including exposure to trauma and violence), to global health and policy issues, to assessing intervention efforts at all levels. Service-learning through practicums and research provide opportunities to apply learning in a hands-on environment and create opportunities for students to contribute to the field as emerging scholars.
